

The Jumper

by Bailey Slater

One day, Jack was playing online with his friend James, in the city of Jubileeville. He told James that there was a big competition coming up in 2 months to win a footy jumper signed by the whole Melbourne team and all you had to do was to be the first person to get 3 goals in the competition game.

Jack was really good at footy and his favourite team was Melbourne, so he started to practice straight away. He drank healthy drinks and ate healthy food as he was on a strict diet. He built up his muscles and his friends were shocked with what he had done.

It was the night before the competition and Jack was staying at James's house. James was the best friend a person could have. His mum and dad were taking him to the competition. He'd never met them but he knew they'd be really nice! They had pizza for tea, then played 'Forza 4' on James's Xbox 360 and then went out to the backyard to practice their footy for the competition. Jack was really counting on winning the competition even though he knew he had a good chance of losing but now it was time to get to sleep.

The day had arrived! Jack and James got up, put their footy clothes on and rushed off to the competition.

It started...Jack marked the ball and got a goal. Once the ball was back in play, he kicked it to the ruck where a really tall guy grabbed it. Jack managed to tap it out of his hand and kicked another goal. He only had one more to get! Not long after Jack's team mates passed him the ball again, he ran it down the field and got his third goal! Jack couldn't believe it! He had won the competition!
